Microsoft SharePoint 2010 – An Introduction

60 Minute Webinar

Microsoft SharePoint has evolved significantly since its release in 2001, from a portal technology, to become a central information platform for business data. SharePoint 2010, due for release on May 12th brings with it advancements in communicating structured and unstructured data while leveraging the latest in web technology; an excellent offering for improving collaboration and providing business insights via the familiar Microsoft interface. Join us in an introduction to this new release from Microsoft and to review the possibilities that it offers.

12:00-13:00 (EST), Tuesday May 25th

Background

While Microsoft SharePoint is widely available and many corporations have embraced previous versions of the product, the full potential of SharePoint is often not fully understood or exploited. This webinar will showcase the new potential offered in Microsoft SharePoint 2010, and explore possibilities offered by its integration with new and advanced Office 2010 offerings such as the brand new in-memory analytical capabilities of Excel through PowerPivot.

Content

We will cover the following topics:

- Introduction to the capabilities of SharePoint 2010: An overview of how each of the functional areas of the product can add value to your business.
- Client Case Study: How one of Thorogood's clients used Office 2010 & SharePoint 2010 to distribute in-memory analytics to key decision makers with Excel's PowerPivot.
