Workshop – Microsoft SQL Server 2012

Tuesday 28 February 2012

At this workshop, we will take a look at the upcoming release of Microsoft SQL Server 2012. This latest release of the Microsoft Business Intelligence product suite introduces significant improvements to the current set of tools plus new capabilities aimed at delivering BI to organisations large and small.

Join us at this workshop where we will walk you through SQL Server 2012.

When: Tuesday 28 February, 10:00 – 13:00, with lunch to follow

Where: Ealing Film Studios, London, W5 5EP

Content

During the course of the morning, we will provide an overview of SQL Server 2012; looking at the features and benefits, and demonstrating the key capabilities of the product. We will also look at PowerView – the new front end tool introduced in SQL Server 2012.

The workshop will cover:

- Breakthrough performance
  - Column based data storage
  - BI Semantic Model
- Credible and consistent data
  - New data quality capabilities
  - Improvements to master data management
- BI for the masses
  - User defined alerting
  - Reporting in SQL 2012 with PowerView

Is it for you?

Do you already use or are you considering the Microsoft platform for BI? Would it help you to understand the options available to you with SQL Server 2012, to really address your organisation's requirements, and add business value? Would it help you to see what other people are doing? If so, this event will be a worthwhile investment of your time.

Format

The workshop is in an informal roundtable setting. There will be presentations and demonstrations from our specialists who will also facilitate discussion and answer questions. It will be held at Thorogood's offices, Ealing Film Studios on Tuesday 28 February 2012, running from 10:00 – 13:00, with lunch to follow.
